Diva Day 2006 doubled!

Hit the brakes!

All of our lives are hectic, demanding and stressful. We don't know a woman who doesn't need a nap and a vacation. Multitasking should be an Olympic sport. Our team would easily qualify. (Of course, the medal competition would be tough.)

It would be a sport dominated by women. Sorry dudes...this one is all about our inability to say "no", our ability to overcommit, and our unwavering belief that we can always cram a few more stops into our day.

What a wild ride life's road takes us on. Each year that races by we find ourselves celebrating the unexpected gifts even more... girls' night out, spa get-aways, belly laughter with friends, free long distance so you can talk to your friend for an hour while you cook, clean, do the laundry, feed the cat and...did the baby just wake up from a nap? Gotta go, go, go, go, go, go, go, go...

Hit the brakes! YOUR day has arrived. We have hosted 6 years of Diva Days to celebrate women. Set aside some "ME TIME" on June 24th and/or 25th. You just drag your fanny in for some pampering. We will do the rest
